Taking Things to the Next Level in 2015!

For three years, the POWER BREAKFAST has featured business thought leaders from across the country sharing their experience and cutting edge strategies for achieving success in this fast-paced, technology driven, global business environment. Each quarter entrepreneurs, business owners, and organizational leaders convene at the Newark Club to learn business best practices, enjoy great networking, and obtain useful knowledge in order to enhance their personal and professional success.

Since the only constant is change, each year the POWER BREAKFAST continues to evolve. We are excited to announce that Newark CEDC and the City of Newark partnering with us for the entire 2015 series. Also, new for 2015 is this quarterly newsletter and a weekly online paper featuring relevant articles on business management. In addition, POWER BREAKFAST events will be broadcast live (streamed) on the web.

I invite you to make an investment in yourself and your organization by participating in and possibly sponsoring the POWER BREAKFAST in 2015. I hope to see you at the upcoming event on February 6th.

Making A Difference!

Feedback from Power Breakfast attendees has been extremely positive. The following comments from attendees highlight the value they derived from participating in the POWER BREAKFAST...

The POWER BREAKFAST helped me to quickly expand my network by connecting with business owners and organizational leaders in a new area where I'm seeking to do business."

"The POWER BREAKFAST has given me ideas and greater perspective on how to run a successful business. It has changed my outlook on our strategic direction"

"I have been able to make a greater impact in my organization by implementing ideas presented by several POWER BREAKFAST speakers and workshop facilitators."

"I've been to many networking events but the POWER BREAKFAST is not just any other event!"

"I have done business with several connections made at the POWER BREAKFAST and look forward to doing more."

"The POWER BREAKFAST is GREAT! I enjoy hearing the guest speakers and always learn something new. I'm looking forward to the next one"

"I shared an idea that I learned from a POWER BREAKFAST speaker in a client meeting and it helped me land a contract."

"I had an opportunity to share information about my organization at the POWER BREAKFAST and have attracted new members as a result."

"I walked into the room and saw many well respected business people that I know. Plus, I met several new quality contacts at the POWER BREAKFAST and look forward following up with them."

"The food and service for the POWER BREAKFAST are always great. A full hot breakfast buffet is a nice way to start the day. I have been to so many events with food where it was scarce and/or low quality - That's not the case here."

Feeding the Entrepreneurial Spirit with The Power Breakfast The IFEL Business Plan Competition Helps Bring New Venture Into Focus

Olympic champions may start their mornings with “Wheaties,” but if you’re in business then you’ll want to partake in The Power Breakfast, a morning conclave of entrepreneurs, business owners, and organizational leaders hosted quarterly by A & J Management. Couple good food with good company and you’ve got a recipe for success (click here to access remainder of this article).

Lunch? How About a Power Breakfast?

BY Gentleman Culture

Have you ever walked past a cafe or restaurant with sidewalk seating and noticed two or three people having what must have been a power lunch? Maybe you could just tell by their clothes, or the Blackberry phones on the table, or the way their body language seemed to articulate decisiveness and confidence. Am I being a little too theatrical here? Maybe. But those “meetings” do take place. And as I learned recently at a Power Breakfast hosted by A&J Management at The Newark Club, they don’t always happen at mid-day (click here to access remainder of this article).

Friday, February 6, 2015 from 8 to 10am
